

Council Increases Taxes On Services

(By D. Kelly Scruton)

The City Council, Monday night, after hearing a statement of Mayor Ralph H. Walker read regarding the City's financial situation, passed several ordinances which will increase taxes on services. For the first time in many years a council vote on an ordinance had to be decided by Mayor Walker casting the vote to break a tie. It was on an ordinance raising the garbage collection fee.

City Clerk Ralph Dedrick read a statement of Mayor Walker regarding the setting of the budget and the necessity of raising various fees. The statement is as follows:

"In setting the budget this year the finance committee worked many long hours faced with the problem of increasing revenue or drastically cutting services."

"Because a curtailment of services would impair the progress of Sedalia it was our decision to cut each department to the minimum necessary to continue its full operation. The total cut in original budget requests amounted to $74,524.00 leaving a deficit of approximately $119,000."

"The seriousness of this situation can not be overstated. Because most communities have no source of revenue tied to inflation they are forced to pay increased costs with incomes that remain constant year after year. Therefore one of the most pressing problems of Missouri municipalities is the need for property reassessment, but because this has not been done we are forced to look at "fee" taxation as a method of increasing revenue. "The city payroll will increase by $36,000 the next fiscal year, the operation of our three completed sewage treatment plants is extremely expensive, costing us $32,000 in electric power alone."

"Insurance will be up $12,000, a new sewer line will be built to serve Town & Country Shoes new plant, a new garbage truck and a payment on a catapiller for the land fill will have to be paid this year. These are some of the things that indicate the need for increased funds."

"These obligations are in spite of the fact that anticipated revenue is down approximately $3,500 from fiscal year 1966-67."

"In order to meet this year's budget the council must give serious consideration to the following:

a) Reduce the reserve account from 7 per cent to 5 per cent b) Increase the garbage collection fee to $2.00 per month

c) Increase the rate for commercial trash pick-up

e) Increase the milk inspection fee to 3 cents per cwt

f) Increase the telephone license fee from 5 per cent to 6 per cent

"If these are not done the only choice is a 10 per cent cut of all departments. This means less fire and police protection, loss street maintenance, a curtailment of work in the sewer and sanitation departments, less money for needed equipment, repairs, improvements and industrial development."

"Last winter the highway department announced it would

Parties Facing Problems

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both national political conventions, the first just three weeks off, are threatened with new communications woes that could affect network television and broadcasting.

Planning for the Democratic convention, scheduled for Chicago Aug. 28, already is feeling the impact of a strike against Illinois Bell Telephone Co.

Party leaders say they may have to pick another city, possibly Miami Beach, site of the Republican meeting that opens Aug. 5.

The new threat, which could affect not only Chicago and Miami Beach but any city big enough to handle a political convention, came to light Monday.

American Telephone & Telegraph Co. warned a customer of the possibility of a strike by 24,000 long lines installers who are members of the Communications Workers of America, a union spokesman said.

Such a strike could affect TV and radio facilities and teletype equipment, including that used by news services.

The installers have been negotiating with AT&T for five weeks on a wage reopener clause in the three-year contract that expires in 1970.

Negotiations in New York are being held on a day-to-day basis and there is no strike deadline at the moment.

A union spokesman said there has been no progress, despite the presence of a federal mediator.

Industrywide, communications workers averaged $3.61 an hour in wages and fringe benefits before a recent contract settlement covering most employees in the Bell System. The spokesman estimated the value of that settlement at 19.58 per cent and said the long lines workers, who average slightly more, are not about to settle for less.

The spokesman said communications already installed, and most of what is needed already is in at Miami Beach, would not be affected. But, he said, repair and testing services would be cut off in the event of a strike.

Meanwhile, Sen. George Smathers, D-Fla., said Monday that Democratic National Chairman John Bailey has asked if Florida Democrats would raise the $600,000 needed to get the convention in Miami Beach.

"I don't see that there is any chance of it going anywhere except Miami Beach if it is moved," Smathers said while in Jacksonville, Fla., for a meeting.

Smathers added, however, that he couldn't give Bailey a direct answer on the matter of raising the money, but did suggest that television and radio networks, other communications media and airlines might contribute.

South Florida Democrats raised the $600,000 last September but lost the convention to Chicago.

Party leaders have indicated they will have to make a decision soon, probably within the next two weeks, on whether to move from Chicago.

Some 11,800 members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers struck Illinois Bell May 8, delaying installation of equipment needed for radio and television as well as equipment needed by candidates and party leaders.

Illinois Bell is studying a proposal by the union for binding arbitration of its demands for wage increases of $19.50 weekly immediately and $10 for the final 18 months of the existing contract.

Bell has offered the IBEW $12 a week over the next 18 months or $26 a week in a new three-year pact. IBEW wages are similar to the CWA scales.

Under the union proposal, strikers would return to work during arbitration.

"Any delay from this day on would jeopardize the convention," an IBEW spokesman said Monday in reference to Bell's pending decision on the arbitration proposal.

BULLETIN

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The United Steelworkers Union's Advisory Committee voted unanimously today for a strike vote among the rank and file, the first in the union's history.

The board recommended that the vote be taken at the local unions on July 23, the committee member said. That would be just eight days before the labor contract for the nation's 450,000 steelworkers expires.

Soviet Troops Remain

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — The Soviet Union has again delayed withdrawal of its troops from Czechoslovakia and along with four East European allies has sent a letter to the new liberal regime in Prague.

Contents of the letter were not disclosed, but it was the product of a conference in Warsaw of nations which already have expressed fear that the Czechoslovak liberalization drive was getting out of hand.

Communist party leaders from Bulgaria, Hungary, East Germany, Poland and the Soviet Union—including party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin—met at Warsaw Sunday and Monday. A communiqué on the conference said they exchanged information "on the situations in their countries and the development of events in Czechoslovakia."

One Communist source said the letter may contain a joint request for removal of the most liberal elements in the Czechoslovak leadership. Newspapers in the orthodox Communist countries have been warning that anti-Socialist elements were trying to use Czechoslovakia's democratization campaign for their own ends.

Many Czechoslovaks saw a threat of Soviet military intervention in the continued presence in their country of Soviet troops who came for training exercises that ended more than two weeks ago.

Maj. Gen. Václav Pchlik, a top Czechoslovak defense official, announced Monday night that a large contingent of Soviet troops is delaying its departure six more days.

Pchlik said the troops would leave the country next Sunday rather than today as they had promised. He told the television audience the Soviet troops definitely were leaving and urged Czechoslovaks not to succumb to a war of nerves.

About 5,000 Russian troops participated in the Warsaw Pact maneuvers, and an estimated 3,000 remained in Czechoslovakia afterward.

After negotiations last week, the Prague government announced that these would begin leaving Saturday. Some went, but the movement halted Sunday. Czechoslovak news media said heavy weekend traffic caused the delay, and the withdrawal resumed Monday.

The curtailment of postal services announced recently by the Postoffice Department will be felt in the Sedalia area, but the full extent of the cutback is not yet known.

Postmaster Maurice Hogan said his office has not yet received full instructions as to how to handle the adjustment but he expects the instructions to arrive in a few days.

The local post office did receive partial instructions Saturday, the portion dealing with any extension of delivery services.

As of Saturday, there will be no extension of delivery services, which includes any new additions, new routes or additions to the schedule on present routes.

New Budget Is Passed At City Council Meet

(By D. Kelly Scruton)

The City Council, after taking a 30-minute recess following some of the routine business handled during the early part of the regular meeting, reported back in the council chambers to approve within minutes a budget for 1968-69 of $1,354,618.00. The budget is an increase of $97,819.00 over the 1967-68 budget.

The department with the highest appropriation of any of the city is that of the police, with a total $249,260; the street and alley is next with $229,293;

Broadcasts Urging Chinese Rebellion

HONG KONG (AP) — A mystery Chinese radio station calling itself "voice of the Peoples Liberation Army" has called upon PLA commanders and troops throughout Red China to prepare for a "true Communist" revolt against party chairman Mao Tse-tung.

Defense Minister Lin Biao, and Mao's wife, Chiang Ching, Violently denouncing the three for "usurping Communist power, lying to the masses, and cheating the PLA," the almost nightly broadcasts accuse Mao of initiating and Lin and Chiang Ching of helping carry out the "anarchism that has paralyzed and is destroying our country."

Lin is Mao's heir apparent. Attempts to pinpoint the location of the station's transmitter have not been successful — at least so far as is known here — and there is considerable doubt as to whether it really is a clandestine army station operating on the Communist mainland.

It would appear from some direction-finding equipment to be somewhere north of Kwangtung Province, perhaps in the region of Changsha, capital of Hunan Province, or in Hubei's Wuhan area. The latter a hot-bed of anti-Maoist activities for more than a year.

Sophisticated equipment exists which can "bend" radio waves and there are some here who believe the transmitter may be located on Formosa.

Professional China analysts here tend to believe that the station is transmitting from mainland China. They say areas of China are in such chaos because of Mao's cultural revolution purge that it would be possible to operate a clandestine transmitter in China.

They also point to the tirade of invective against Mao's wife, known to be hated by many long-time army veterans who fought the pre-1949 revolution that conquered China for the Communists and drove the Chiang Kai-shek government into exile on Kormosa.

This, coupled with their feeling that Nationalist Chinese propagandists have, in one expert's words, "never shown themselves this effective," is inclining them to the belief that it is a clandestine operation broadcasting from the mainland.

Lack Full Data on Postal Cuts

The curtailment of postal services announced recently by the Postoffice Department will be felt in the Sedalia area, but the full extent of the cutback is not yet known.

Postmaster Maurice Hogan said his office has not yet received full instructions as to how to handle the adjustment but he expects the instructions to arrive in a few days.

The local post office did receive partial instructions Saturday, the portion dealing with any extension of delivery services.

As of Saturday, there will be no extension of delivery services, which includes any new additions, new routes or additions to the schedule on present routes.

Hogan explained that residents in new additions, for the time being at least, will have to place their mail boxes on the corner of the addition nearest the present delivery route. He added that some requests for new service had been forwarded by his office Friday and that he does not know what the determination of these requests will be.

The department in its announcement indicated several smaller post offices, those of the fourth class, will be closed in a two-phase move, but none of the fourth class post offices in the Central Missouri area are on the list of those to close.

The announcement also said that all postmasters will be directed to plan for the elimination of all Saturday delivery on city residential routes. The effective date of this move will be announced later, the announcement said. There are no plans to eliminate Saturday deliveries to business districts.

To reduce payroll costs in post offices, only three out of four vacancies are to be filled as they occur. "This is not a matter of dollars, but of people. Under the manpower restrictions imposed by the new tax bill we simply will not have enough people to continue present services," the department announcement said.

The following actions have been ordered:

1. Effective July 27, Saturday collection of mail from street boxes will be adjusted to conform with Sunday collection service.

2. Effective immediately, postmaster vacancies existing or occurring in third and fourth class post offices will not be filled until it is determined whether the route can be consolidated with another one or eliminated.

3. Two hundred and fifty fourth class post offices will be discontinued Aug. 2, and another 97 on Aug. 30. Arrangements will be made for those affected to have rural mail service.

4. Postmasters are to submit to the department by Sept. 1, their plans for elimination of Saturday delivery service in cities on residential routes. Dates of elimination will be established later.

Hogan said any information he receives, or any schedule changes, will be announced as they occur.

Expect Delay in Latest Offensive by Viet Cong

SAIGON (AP) — The ground war picked up south of Saigon Monday and today, with 192 of the enemy reported killed. But a senior U.S. officer said large enemy units had moved westward from the Saigon area, and the next big Viet Cong offensive against the South Vietnamese capital is not likely before late July or early August.

The American source warned that despite the enemy withdrawals, the Viet Cong still plans to attack Saigon. Da Nang and Hue, the two major cities in the northern part of the country, also were considered likely targets for a general Communist offensive.

After a prolonged lull in the ground war, infantrymen from the U.S. 9th Division — protecting the southern approaches to Saigon tangled with an enemy force Monday 16 miles south-southeast of the capital. The battle raged until just before dawn today, and the American Command sent in divebombers, artillery and helicopter gunships to pound the enemy.

U.S. headquarters said 76 Viet Cong troops were slain and 12 weapons captured, including six mortars. U.S. losses were seven killed and 21 wounded.

Forty miles farther south, U.S. and South Vietnamese ground, naval and air forces caught sizable Viet Cong units pressing in on a provincial capital in the Mekong Delta and reported killing 116 of the enemy in an all-day battle Monday. Seventeen Americans and two South Vietnamese were wounded, spokesmen said.

As many as 1,000 infantrymen of the U.S. 9th Division plus more than 1,000 South Vietnamese troops boxed the enemy in near Phu Vinh. U.S. Air Force dive bombers and Army helicopter gunships pounded the guerrillas.

Drop Notice Of Renewals This Month

Owing to a technological change-over currently underway in the office of the Director of Revenue in Jefferson City, motorists will not receive license plate renewal notices for July from the department according to the motor vehicle registration office here.

July license plates are the only plates affected, and begin with the letter "M". Trucks are not included.

In order to obtain new plates for July, the local license bureau asks that motorists bring their titles or registration slips to that office.

Modification to Missiles Part of Major Overhaul

The contract awarded Monday by the Air Force Space and Missile Systems Organization to the Boeing Co. for $1.7 million is only a part of the complete Minuteman missile system modification program in this area.

The total cost of the modification program will be near $12.2 million, according to current estimates. Under the letter contract system in which the $1.7 million contract was awarded, the complete contract will be in phases as the money becomes available.

Work on the Whiteman AFB Minuteman system is part of a modification and improvement program for the entire Air Force intercontinental ballistic missile force, according to a spokesman from the base.

The Boeing Co. will begin work on the latest phase in the program late this year. A work force of between 150 and 300 people will be utilized in this phase. Some 20 Boeing employees have reopened the Boeing operations center at Whiteman. This team is under the systems modification manager, Ray Soner, and is now surveying the system.

This "back check" is in connection with the major modification program completed at Whiteman last year and, was previously contracted for performance prior to any additional modification such as the new contract.

The survey team expects to complete their phase of the work this fall.

According to Gary Cooper, executive manager of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, some 25 families will move into the Sedalia area soon. More will arrive as the work progresses. Cooper added that some housing, preferable three or four bedroom apartments, is being sought.

Flat Creek Survey Is Included

Kaysinger Bluff Reservoir, Stockton Reservoir and a Flat Creek survey were all included in a bill carrying $4.7 billion for public works projects and the Atomic Energy Commission approved Monday by the Senate Appropriations Committee.

The committee approved $7 million for construction at Kaysinger, and for Stockton, $14.5 million. The Flat Creek survey was approved for $20,000.

The Flat Creek survey is in connection with a possible dam in the vicinity of Sedalia to create a reservoir.

The House passed the bill earlier, with the following figures: Kaysinger, $6,650,000; Stockton, $13,775,000; Flat Creek, $20,000.

The measure now goes to the full Senate for consideration, which will probably come later this week.

Doctors Do Err Says A Husband

Dear Ann Landers: I was surprised that you made reference to the surgeon who took off the wrong leg by mistake. The medical profession doesn't like that kind of publicity.

Several years ago my wife was in the hospital for a spinal disc operation. The morning she was scheduled for surgery, a physician walked into her room and said in his cheeriest voice, "You certainly don't look like a woman of 66." My wife replied, "I HOPE I don't. I'm 45." The doctor gulped and stammered, "Uh, I must have the wrong chart here." He left and returned a few moments later with the correct chart.

Heaven only knows what would have happened if the mistake had not been discovered. The woman whose chart the doctor held may have been scheduled for a gall bladder operation or a thyroidectomy. I'm writing to alert you to the fact that doctors are not God. They are human beings who make mistakes, just like everyone else, and it pays to check on them. — HUSBAND OF A NEAR-VICTIM

Dear Husband: Thank you for your letter. I knew before you wrote that doctors are not God and they make mistakes like everyone else. I have expressed those very sentiments in this column on numerous occasions.

Dear Ann Landers: I accepted a job with this organization eight months ago today. A woman I met here impressed me as extremely bright and friendly. I liked her at once. Now the problem:

This woman has worn the same washable two-piece corduroy outfit every day since we met. She is not hard up financially. Her husband has a top-notch position and she also makes an excellent salary. I have been to their home and seen several dresses hanging in her closet. When I asked her why she never wore them she replied, "They are too large. I used to be quite heavy." I offered to give her the name of my alteration lady but she said, "It wouldn't be worth it."

The woman is neat and clean, but can you imagine what that corduroy suit looks like after being worn every day for eight months? I do believe the dear lady will wear that suit to her grave. Would she be offended if I presented her with a decent dress in her size? — WACO

Dear WACO: Save your money. Your friend has a psychological thing going with that corduroy suit and she will wear it until it falls off her back. Be thankful that she is neat and clean and don't make her hang-up your problem.

Dear Ann Landers: Can you tell me please what the duties of a minister's wife are? When is she supposed to find time for her own family and the activities she considers fun and not obligations? I've asked this question of several friends who are married to ministers and they don't know the answer. Do you? — DAWN TO DUSK HELPMATE

Dear Dawn: This problem is one you ought to talk over with your clergyman.

Confidential to Hoot Owl: Of course you can't sleep nights. You sleep days. Drag your carcass out of bed in the morning and fix breakfast for your family. Perhaps if you were a self-starter your husband wouldn't have to be a crank.

SAIGON (AP) — The Communist command's ability to mass elements of four divisions around Saigon underlines once again the weakness of allied tactical intelligence and the enduring strength of guerrilla warfare tactics.

Despite massive firepower, helicopter mobility, numerical superiority and computers, the allied command has been forced toward the medieval strategy of pulling back to defend the city's gates.

The allies have the equivalent of some nine divisions in the Saigon region and along the major infiltration routes leading to the capital. But they have not been able to find and destroy a significant enemy formation, either on the way to Saigon or in their pre-attack positions.

Some 15 enemy battalions are reported within 15 miles of Saigon. One highly placed Vietnamese source says some 1,000 enemy troops have infiltrated the city itself despite the ring of defending troops and hundreds of police checkpoints.

The establishment of a vastly beefed up capital military district command is a tacit admission that the Viet Cong cannot be stopped before they reach Saigon. During the two previous defenses this year, some 4,000 troops managed to penetrate the city in February and about 1,200 in May and June. The allied command was caught flatfooted in February but had ample warning of the May offensive.

Mountains of intelligence on the expected "third wave" attack is in allied hands, but the vital details of just where individual enemy units are holed up are not part of it.

One U.S. source said lagging intelligence has resulted in B52 strikes as much as a day behind enemy movement toward the capital. The Stratofortresses are supposed to destroy the enemy regiments before they can get into position for an attack.

Most tactical intelligence apparently comes from electronic and photographic devices and the like, most of them carried by plane. Due to past demonstrations that U.S.

and government troops cannot prevent enemy regiments from moving through the countryside, reports on enemy movements from villagers has dried up significantly, one source reported.

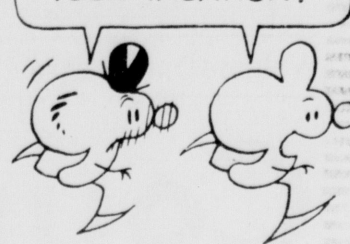

The villagers face multiple problems if they help. Allied troops may attack their village, causing widespread damage. Or the helpful villagers may be betrayed and executed, along with all their families. Viet Cong punishment for informers is swift, brutal and final.

Safety Auto Check Explained To Rotary

Trooper Richard Joos, of the Missouri State Highway Patrol, explained Missouri's Motor Vehicle Inspection Program to Sedalia Rotarians Monday noon at Hotel Bothwell.

The inspection program becomes effective on January 1, 1969, and all Missouri-licensed cars must be inspected within thirty days prior to registering the vehicle each year, Pieper reported.

The inspection will include windshield wipers, rearview mirror, all window glass, air pollution control devices, horn, headlights, turn signals, parking lights, steering mechanism, all tires, brake system, taillights, and exhaust system. The inspection may be made at any state authorized garage or filling station and the fee will be $2.50. The state will receive fifty cents of the fee.

If a car fails to pass the inspection, the owner will have fifteen days in which to have the vehicle repaired, according to Trooper Joos. Repairs may be made anywhere the owner chooses.

Preventive maintenance is a part of Missouri's total traffic safety program to save lives on Missouri's streets and highways, Trooper Joos stated. The speaker was introduced by Douglas Groom, July program chairman.

Alvin G. Cline, 1716 S. Beacon, in charge of Updating System at Whiteman Air Force Base, and Jack Golloway, manager of the Sedalia Commonwealth theatres, a former Rotarian, were introduced by Jake Sumners and Gaylan Cope as new members of the club.

Dr. Stanley Fisher, club president, explained the importance of attendance at each meeting and the types of memberships available in the club.

Guests were Rotarian Dr. Crager Bordman, Camden, N. J., Rotarian Dale Stammerjohn, Booneville; Tom Cannon, Des Moines, Iowa, with his grandfather Leo Eickhoff and Russell Craddock, Newport News, Va., with Del Heckart. Introductions were made by Don Barnes.

Group singing was led by Charles Hofheins.

Maybe your folks could help out if you get in a financial bind. Maybe they couldn't. It will be better for both of you if you don't have to ask them.

When you pay your own way, you earn the right to make your own decisions.

One of your new responsibilities will be paying your own hospital and doctor bills. If you are both under 34, the chances are 1 in 5 that you will need hospital care this year. Pretty good odds. But not good enough.

Think about this.

In Kansas City, the average cost of hospital care is more than $50 a day!

If you aren't ready for it, a big medical bill can put you in debt to somebody—at a time when every penny counts. That could really cramp your style.

Why not protect yourselves right from the start—with Blue Cross-Blue Shield?

Nationally, Blue Cross-Blue Shield returns 90 percent of every dues dollar to members in the form of hospital and doctor benefits. That's 90¢ out of every dollar!

No other health care plan can match that value year after year.

It's easy to find out all about Blue Cross-Blue Shield. If Blue Cross-Blue Shield is available where you work, check with your personnel department.

For individual membership, fill out the coupon and mail it today. There's no obligation, and no salesman will come to your house.

ABC Stock Transaction Doubtful

NEW YORK (AP) — Howard Hughes has won another round in his battle to buy 43 per cent of the stock in the American Broadcasting Companies, Inc. But the outcome of the transaction remains in doubt.

The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals refused Monday to enjoin the sale of two million shares of ABC stock to Hughes. It upheld an earlier ruling by a district court judge.

The financier offered, two weeks ago, through his wholly owned Hughes Tool Co., to buy the stock, then selling at $58.87 a share, for $74.25 a share. He set a deadline of 3 p.m. Monday on the tender offer, telling holders of ABC stock in effect, that if they wanted to accept his offer to buy, they had to do it before then.

The ruling came less than two hours before the deadline.

It was not known how much of the stock Hughes obtained. However, sources close to the multimillionaire said the stock had been coming in "pretty good." His agents said Monday afternoon that no decision had been reached on whether to extend the deadline.

No matter how much of the stock Hughes got, he will have no control over the company for the time being.

Hughes' attorneys said in court that the Federal Communications Commission had directed the financier not to try to influence ABC management until the regulatory agency says the acquisition is legal. The FCC already has said it will hold hearings to determine if the acquisition is legal.

Complete 1968 GOP Roster

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republicans finished manning their 1968 convention during the past week and the Democrats left themselves only 162 more votes to allot for their own presidential nominating session.

The biggest change in the standing of candidates, in terms of first-ballot votes committed on the record one way or another, was a pick-up of 33 1/2 votes for Democratic Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey to 711. His opponent, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, made a gain of 1 1/2 to 415 1/2.

The count covers those bound by primary results, pledged at the time of election, or stating a stand in a poll by The Associated Press.

On those terms the Democratic situation remained extremely fluid, with 1,312 required to nominate in the convention scheduled to open in Chicago Aug. 26, and a bit more than that number either declining to commit themselves in public or backing favorite sons.

The Republicans completed their roster by means of Utah's state convention in which former Vice President Richard M. Nixon picked up 2 for a total of 507. New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller stood still at 192. The GOP, meeting in Miami Beach Aug. 5, had a total of 585 backing favorite sons or professing uncommitted status.

About Town

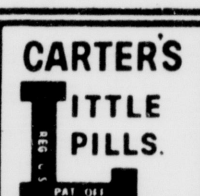

P. L. Cole, Route 2, Otterville, has returned home from a vacation which took him through several northwestern states and into Canada. He retired from Pittsburgh Corning Corp., on May 14 after which he began his eight-week tour.

Cole retired after 20 years as a gateman at the company plant on West 16th Street. Fellow employees and company officials presented him a certificate for a Winchester gun.

He visited in Denver, Colo., with Harold Byers; visited at Salt Lake City, then the William Lucke family at Nappa, Idaho; in Seattle, Wash., with the Martin Byers family; saw the Cascade mountains, the Pacific Ocean where he observed crab hunting and waded in the ocean waters.

In Plains, Mont., he visited Bud Cole, his cousin, owner of a purebred Shorthorn cattle ranch; at Billings, Mont., he visited with cousins and friends, Mr. and Mrs. William Krammer, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Blaesius, Mrs. Mamie Deskin and Mrs. Myrtle Lawson. The Krammers accompanied him on a trip to Bow Island, where they visited with Everett Stevenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Krammer, a teacher in the high school there.

At Red Lodge, Mont., he visited with Frank Cole, Sr., and son Frank, Jr. The father is president of the Shorthorn Breeder's Association of Montana. His son, has a Shorthorn cattle ranch at Red Lodge, raising purebred cattle.

Firearms Death Count

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

last year for which figures were available.

An AP survey during the week ending June 23 tallied 199 gunshot deaths, including 115 homicides, 65 suicides and 19 by accidents.

California with 21 had the highest firearms toll last week. Of these, 10 were homicides, 10 were suicides and 1 was accidental. Illinois had 15 gunshot deaths, of which 9 were homicides.

The survey contained the familiar picture of crime-connected shootings, domestic quarrels which ended in gunplay and despondency which gave way to suicide. It also revealed how sometimes pathetically simple dispute ends in tragedy.

Mrs. Albertine Wiggins, 22, was shot to death with a .22-caliber pistol in Winter Haven, Fla. It happened during an argument with her hostess over a dish of homemade ice cream.

A building superintendent allegedly shot three men to death in New York City, eluded a police dragnet and surrendered eventually to police in Graham, N.C.

A teen-ager suspected of prowling in Portland, Ore., was shot by police when he refused to obey an officer's orders to halt. The youth, 19, was deaf.

Two men argued over what records to play on a tavern juke box in Eloy, Ariz. Someone pulled a gun, and Louis Martinez, 29, was shot fatally. Martin Gonzales, 30, surrendered to police.

"A brutal, senseless execution" was the way police described what happened in a Maryland robbery. A well-dressed man entered a sandwich shop near Baltimore, took $169 from the four customers, then ordered them to the floor. He emptied his .38-caliber pistol at the victims, killing two.

A domestic quarrel in New Albany, Ind., ended with the fairly routine entry of "murder-suicide" in police records. Robert H. Schaffer, 61, and his wife, Phyllis Ann, 34, had an argument. She was running from the house when her husband shot her, then turned the gun on himself.

Deaths in the Vietnam war have averaged 357 a week so far in 1968. The National Safety Council said traffic deaths for a week in July averaged around 980.

Willard Hotel Closes Its Doors on a Historic Past

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Willard Hotel, where presidents from Franklin Pierce to Warren G. Harding slept and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" was composed, has closed its doors after more than a century's association with the nation's history.

Located on 14th and Pennsylvania Avenue, less than two blocks from the White House, the Willard survived as an institution the wear and tear of the Civil War, conventions and depressions since the first building went up about 1850. The original hotel was torn down in 1901 and the current structure replaced it that year.

But the Willard couldn't fight 20th Century economics and the prospect of urban renewal and its managers shut down the establishment last midnight.

The hotel's owners, the 1401 Realty Corp., and Howill Corp., both of New York, were not available for comment, but spokesmen in Washington acknowledged that financial difficulty for the past year-and-a-half finally resulted in shutting down the operation.

Other reasons for closing the Willard were offered as the April riots, the Poor People's Campaign—both of which were blamed by commerce leaders for damaging business—and the threat of condemnation to make way for a national square.

It wasn't always that way. Almost as soon as the Willard Brothers moved from New England to the capital city and put up a hotel it became the focus of Washington social and political life.

The first of the long line of presidents to stay at Willard's Hotel, as it was known then, was Franklin Pierce. He moved in after his November 1852 election and stayed until his inauguration the following March 4.

They weren't all politicians, the guests who stayed at Willard's. Walt Whitman was there. So was Mark Twain, Victor Herbert, John Philip Sousa and Carl Sandberg.

Another guest, in 1861, was Julia Ward Howe. After watching the Union troops return after the disaster at first Bull Run singing the abolitionist tune, "John Brown's Body," she returned to the Willard to set new words to the melody. She called it "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Red Jet Delayed In Traffic

MOSCOW (AP) — New York's heavy airport traffic delayed Aeroflot, the Soviet government airline, and Pan American World Airways Monday as they inaugurated commercial air service between Moscow and New York.

The delay at John F. Kennedy Airport was minor, however, compared to the seven years of negotiations, interrupted from time to time by Cold War crises, that preceded agreement this year.

The first Soviet Ilyushin 62 from Moscow arrived on schedule over New York at 4:30 p.m. EDT but couldn't touch down until 5:27 p.m. because of heavy traffic above the airport.

A special Pan Am VIP flight to Moscow was to have taken off at 7:55 p.m., followed by the first regularly scheduled commercial flight at 8:15 p.m. The plane carrying 11 government officials and other VIPs didn't depart until 8:23 p.m. and the regular flight left at 9:09 p.m. Again the heavy traffic was blamed.

The Soviet Ilyushin carried 93 passengers, including 54 government officials, and stopped in Montreal.

A crowd of about 1,000 watched as the Ilyushin unloaded its passengers in New York and they walked to a customs shed flanked by a Russian and an American flag.

Waiting to greet the arrivals was Eugene V. Rostow, U.S. undersecretary of state for political affairs; Najeeb Halaby, Pan Am's president, and Jacob Malik, Soviet ambassador to the United Nations.

The beginning of air service between the two world power capitals followed more than seven years of bargaining. Agreement was reached earlier this year on weekly service by Pan Am and Aeroflot.

Aeroflot will fly regularly from Moscow to New York on Mondays with a brief stopover in Montreal. The flight will return to Moscow on Wednesdays. The IL62 will carry a maximum of 122 passengers, although it could seat 186 persons.

First-class fares on both airlines will be the same — $584 one way and $1,110 round trip. Depending on the travel season, economy class fares will run from $384 to $429 one way, and $730 to $815 round trip.

Economy fares are higher during peak travel seasons.

Christ of Latter Day Saints, officiating.

Mrs. Kenneth Keele and Mrs. Keith Maynard will furnish music.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Daisy Williams, 310 East 26; three brothers, Paul and Earl Lee Rowlette and Ricky Williams; two sisters, Rosa and Kathy Rowlette; his foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Coen, 1521 Driftwood Drive.

Burial will be in Crown Hill Cemetery.

Mary Mitchell

GRAVOIS MILLS — Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Josephine Mitchell, 69, who died Saturday, were held at 10 a.m. Tuesday at St. Patrick's Catholic Church, Gravois Mills, with Father James O'Sullivan officiating.

Burial was in Brookings Cemetery, Kansas City.

Joe E. Thompson

Knob Noster — Funeral services for Joe E. Thompson, 77, Knob Noster, who died Monday at his home from a heart attack, will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday at the Knob Noster Christian Church with the Rev. John Thompson officiating.

Burial will be in the Knob Noster Cemetery.

Pallbearers will be nephews, Chester Thompson, Kansas City; Earl Thompson, LaMonte; Delmar Thompson, Gene Dale Thompson, Wallace Wimer and Sydney Davis, all of Knob Noster.

The family suggests memorials to the Johnson County Heart Fund.

The body will lie in state at the Sweeney-Phillips Funeral Home, Knob Noster, from 5 p.m. Tuesday through Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Elsie Brown

HIGH POINT — Funeral services for Mrs. Elsie Brown, 88, who died Sunday, were held at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday at the High Point Baptist Church.

Police Reports

Jim C. Hudson, 1502 East 11th, reported to police Monday afternoon that someone has stolen eight stereo tapes out of his car.

Police were notified at 5:52 a.m. Tuesday that Monday night a car had been driven off the roadway in the 1500 block on South Grand, into a yard then back onto the street, damaging some trees and a lawn.

Mrs. Harry Dirck, who maintains a home at 612 East 11th, but who has been in the State of California for the past nine months, reported to police Monday that someone had burglarized her home.

She told Detective Sergeant Perry Franklin that two portable sewing machines, some TV sets, an organ, a stereo sound unit and other articles were taken.

After being notified by her parents that someone had entered the home, she returned from California.

The police are continuing the investigation.

Two juveniles were taken into custody Monday by authorities after they allegedly took a signet ring, valued at $6.95, from Zurcher's Jewelers, 231 South Ohio, about 10:40 a.m. Monday.

The juveniles were released to the custody of their parents.

Sue Shapley reported to police Sunday afternoon that vandals broke a window in a car owned by Dorothy Ponzel, 500 South Barrett.

Magistrate Court

Gerald Scott Heimsath, Sedalia, was bound over to the September term of the Pettis County Circuit Court after his preliminary hearing Tuesday in Magistrate Court.

The defendant is alleged to have stolen property over $50 in value on July 4.

Heimsath remains free on a continuing bond of $3,000.

Accidents

Three persons received minor injuries in a head-on collision at Gasoline Alley on U. S. Highway 50 about 3:20 p.m. Monday, when a car headed west making a left turn into the Vickers Service Station and a car driven east collided head-on.

Injured was Mrs. Sherrill Brock, 24, wife of the driver of one car, Otis Brock, Jr., 25, 1930 East 16th Street, and the driver of the second car James D. Cunningham, 19, of Smithton. Mrs. Brock suffered a laceration on her face, bruises and complained of her back. Brock suffered bruises. Cunningham complained of a chest injury.

Mr. and Mrs. Brock were treated by Dr. Arturo Gonzales while Cunningham was taken to the office of Dr. D. K. Kirby from the hospital. All three were taken to Bothwell Hospital by the Sedalia Ambulance Service.

Trooper Sam Morris, of the Missouri State Highway Patrol, who investigated the accident with Trooper Edgar Dayringer, said Cunningham was driving a 1964 Ford Coach and headed west and started to make a left turn into the service station and Brock was headed east when the cars collided. The right front end of the Ford was extensively damaged while the left front of the 1966 Plymouth Fury was extensively damaged.

Darnell's wrecker towed the two vehicles from the scene.

Joe Reine, 64, Route 4, received minor injuries in a car-tractor accident on County Highway EE northeast of Sedalia about 4 o'clock Monday evening.

Reine was brought to the Bothwell Hospital by the Sedalia Ambulance Service and then taken to the office of Dr. R. A. Enoch, where he was given treatment for a laceration on his head. He was then taken to his home.

Trooper Charles Pieper, of the State Highway Patrol, reported Reine was driving a 1965 Imperial sedan north on Highway EE and Clarence Henry Williams Jr., 32, Route 5, headed south on the highway and started to make a left turn into his driveway. The two vehicles collided and the under portion of the front end of the John Deere tractor, was knocked off, while extensive damage resulted to the left front fender, the grill on the front end and radiator extensively damaged while the windshield was also broken when Reine was thrown against it.

Williams Jr. was not injured.

Scott Boyd, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Boyd, 200 West Avenue, received minor burns on the right leg and ear and shock, when he picked up two live wires in the garage of his parents. He also put the wires in his mouth but apparently did not receive any burns there.

He was rushed to the Bothwell Hospital by the Sedalia Ambulance Service where Dr. Donald Proctor rendered emergency treatment and had him admitted to the hospital for further observation.

A two-car accident occurred at the intersection of Broadway and Engineer at 12:48 p.m. Monday.

Involved were a 1967 Chevrolet, driven west on Broadway by Billy E. Hogue, 36, Smithton, and a 1967 Pontiac, driven east on Broadway by Deborah Kay Mabbott, 16, Winchester.

Damage was to the right front of the Chevrolet and the right rear of the Pontiac.

take over the entire cost of the South Limit project if the city would pay the cost of moving utilities.

"This agreement was negotiated saving the need for a second election and giving us a surplus of $77,721.91 in the Highway Urban Fund. After moving utilities this fund will still show an account balance of approximately $62,000.

"It is our intention to transfer $22,300 to the Street and Alley Department for the improvement of Ohio from 16th Street to Pacific ($17,900) and 16th Street from Grand to Vermont ($4,400). The remaining funds should be used to retire some of the Highway Urban Bonds.

"I would like to commend the Finance Committee, Mr. Miller, Mr. Masters and Mr. Letourneau for their very hard and conscientious work; to ask the council to pass this budget with the recommended ordinances and to point out to every city employee and department head that jobs and continuing service to the city depend on strict adherence to this budget and not one dime must be spent unnecessarily — to continue to move forward every expenditure must be given very serious consideration.

Ralph H. Walker

The first ordinance introduced was a paragraph in the garbage collection ordinance as to the rate. It raises the single dwelling fee from $1.00 to $2.00; $2.00 per family up to apartments of three families; for apartments of four or more from $1.50 to $1.75 per unit.

It was on this ordinance Mayor Walker broke the tie three times, on the vote for a second reading it was four no and four yes. Those voting no were Councilman Jesse Robinson, R. N. Snavely, Raymond Simons, and Bob Wells, and the yes votes were James Schumaker, LaVern Masters, George Miller and Leo Letourneau.

"I will cast a yes vote," Mayor Walker said. On the third reading and for the final passage the vote remained the same on those and each time Walker cast a yes vote.

Tax on telephone service was raised from 5 per cent to 6 per cent; license fee to be charged on commercial refuse haulers of $5.00; a charge for unloading at refuse collection centers of $1.00 if more than 15 minutes are necessary to unload; raising the commercial garbage pick-up from 10-cents a 30-gallon container to 25-cents.

The latter ordinances were all passed unanimously.

An ordinance which would increase the milk inspection fee from one-cent to three-cents per hundred weight was defeated five to three. Councilman Robinson, Snavely, Schumaker, Simons, and Wells voted no with Miller, Letourneau and Masters voting yes.

An ordinance making it unlawful for persons, firms or corporations to dispose of refuse collections at a collection center, but not affecting residential persons, was passed. Violators would be punished with a fine up to $100 or up to 90-days in jail.

A separate ordinance repealing the commercial collection fee of 10-cents was passed in connection with the ordinance passed increasing the fee to 25-cents.

The Council passed an ordinance to become effective as of June 1, 1969, a tax of two-per cent on gross receipts for hotels, motels or rooming houses having more than four rooms for rent.

An ordinance making it a misdemeanor for persons to trespass, destroy or damage property of the City of Sedalia was passed with penalties on violators being up to $100 fine or up to 90-days in jail.

A curb and guttering ordinance was passed for Montgomery from 19th to 20th streets on both sides of the street to be paid through tax bills.

Program for Rural Poor Starts Soon

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — A pilot program to aid the rural poor, the only one of its kind in the nation, will be undertaken this summer by the University of Missouri extension division.

Dr. C. B. Ratchford, vice president for extension, said a $74,525 grant from the Office of Economic Opportunity will finance the program.

Officials of federal and state agencies will confer in late summer and early fall with representatives of poor rural residents in 70 Missouri counties.

Their objective is to identify the most pressing needs of poverty-stricken families in rural areas and then move to solve the problems.

Poor health, inadequate housing and under-nourishment are among the targets, Ratchford said.

Authorities hope the Missouri program will provide a model for other states.

not include various funded accounts and special funds.

Other council business transacted included approval of curb and guttering on New England Drive on the west side of the street for Garland Foster, 1412 New England Drive.

The resignation of Theodore S. Perry as a Class C probation patrolman was accepted as of July 15, approved was the appointment of James Shawhan, as a Class C probationary patrolman on the police department.

On recommendation of Councilman Jesse Robinson, the appointment of J. C. Griffin to obtain right-of-way easements for the southwest sewage lagoon was approved.

Only two bids were received on corrugated pipe for the Sewer and Sanitation Department. These were opened. They were Looney and Bloess for pipe of various sizes and joints, $1,530.82 and De Long's Inc., for the same specifications $1,693.27. The bids were referred to the Sewer and Sanitation committee for the acceptance of the lowest and best bid.

A motion by Councilman Leo Letourneau to draw an ordinance raising the parking meter penalties from 25 cents to $1.00 was passed after Mayor Walker for the second time during the night had to break a council tie vote. Councilmen Robinson, R. N. Snavely, Bob Wells, and Raymond Simons voted no while councilmen James Schumaker, LaVern Masters, George Miller and Letourneau voted yes. The mayor cast a yes vote.

Councilman Schumaker took the floor and said changes must be made on parking meter time in the downtown area to give more time to the users.

E. Glenn Lewis, a former Councilman, took the floor, and asked if the Council was "going to ram-rod" the increase in penalty without giving the merchants an opportunity to appear and have something to say and recommend about the change.

Mayor Walker took exception to the remark and said all of these councilmen have the best interest of Sedalia businessmen at heart. "It will take at least three weeks to prepare the ordinance and bring it up," the Mayor said.

Liquor licenses approved were: wholesale beer to Hamms Sales Co., liquor by the drink to the Bungalow, 114 East Third; and package liquor to Bing's Super Market, 14th and Limit.

Department bills approved were: General and Administrative $3,295.15; Airport $1,386.62; Fire $106.45; Police $556.73; Street and Alley $989.71; Sanitation $2,916.88; Sewer $2,956.07; Public Buildings and Grounds, $204.94; Lights and Water $8,184.92; A total of $20,597.47.

Opposes Foreign Aid Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford has told the chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee that drastic curtailment of foreign aid could affect the Paris peace negotiations.

The warning from Clifford, now on an inspection trip to Vietnam, was contained in a letter to Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., who released it on the eve of today's opening debate on the always controversial foreign aid bill.

"The impact of a drastic curtailment or a complete moratorium in economic aid on countries such as Korea and Thailand would be immediate and calamitous," Clifford wrote.

"Discontinuation of aid to South Vietnam and Laos could create internal situations which would prejudice the Paris peace negotiations and the accomplishment of our objectives in Southeast Asia," he added.

Morgan sent copies of the letter to all House members.

Following today's debate, the bill will be put aside until Thursday so members attending the Wednesday funeral of Rep. Joe Pool, D-Tex., can be on hand for the battle over amendments.

Pool died Sunday on a plane in Texas.

Morgan's committee slashed the administration's request for the fiscal year that began July 1 from $2.96 billion to $2.36 billion.

The bill squeaked by the House by only eight votes last year when Congress authorized $2.67 billion for the program, but then appropriated only $2.2 billion.

A series of cutting amendments are in store along with an effort to clamp a one-year moratorium on the program and probably an attempt to kill it outright.

Clifford also cautioned against a military aid moratorium.

A Normal Life For Fugitive

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — For 13 years, Howard Clyde Hodges lived in the shadows — a fugitive trying to be an ordinary citizen.

He had a wife, a son, a job, a home and friendly neighbors.

Then, this past spring his true identity was revealed. There was a fight to avoid extradition. Friends came to his defense.

Eight days ago Hodges was returned to a North Carolina prison unit.

But today he leaves a free man.

Howard Clyde Hodges, 44, was granted a parole Monday by the North Carolina Board of Pardon.

In Danville, Va., his wife said: "I had prayed that this was going to happen. I feel that my prayers have been answered... It's like a weight being lifted off our shoulders. We can make plans now, something we couldn't do before."

Mrs. Hodges, who works in a textile mill, said she visited her husband for 30 minutes Sunday at the Person County prison unit in North Carolina.

Hodges, a native of Danville, escaped from the Durham prison unit in 1955 after serving more than three months of a 12-month sentence for the attempted burglary of a Durham grocery store. He was living in Durham at that time.

14 Bottom Rail on Top

If there was anything Southern whites feared more than bad Negro government, it was good Negro government. If there was anything they feared more than an ignorant Negro, it was a brilliant one.

—Lerone Bennett Jr.

The history of Reconstruction has been viewed largely through Southern-made glasses—ignorant blacks, abetted by carpetbaggers (Northern white opportunists) and scalawags (Southern white traitors), lording it over whites in the statehouses, wasting the people's money on such things as gold-plated spittoons and making a mockery of Western parliamentary law.

The facts speak otherwise.

There was some corruption, to be sure, but no worse than the South knew before and not as bad as it was to know later. It could not compare with the graft-ridden government of post-Civil War New York or the federal government during the Grant administration.

Once given the chance, Negroes took to politics on local, state and national levels with alacrity and an amazing ability to learn. Between 1869 and 1901, 20 Negroes served in the U.S. House of Representatives and two in the Senate. One of the latter, Blanche Kelso Bruce, occupied the seat of ex-president of the Confederacy Jefferson Davis.

Among many other important posts, Negroes served as lieutenant governors in Mississippi, South Carolina and Louisiana. P.B.S. Pinchback briefly held the office of governor of Louisiana.

Although the freedmen had a saying—"the bottom rail is on top"—in no state did Negroes control the government, although in South Carolina they had a majority in the house. There was a notable lack of desire for revenge against the whites. Senator Bruce, for one, championed the re-enfranchisement of former rebels.

It was in their remaking of the state constitutions that the black politicians left their lasting mark. Voting qualifications and imprisonment for debt were abolished, free public schools for both races were established, the rights of women were enhanced.

Ironically, it was the white population that was to benefit from all this when Reconstruction was finally overthrown. Except for Negro rights, white supremacy governments were to retain many of the advances made during this short period of experimentation with democracy in the South.

Prejudice Examined By Network

By JERRY BUCK

Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The raw nerve of antagonism and distrust between Negroes and the police was revealed Monday night in the airing by ABC of a project in Houston, Tex., aimed at achieving a better understanding.

The network took its cameras into a session in which Negroes and policemen confronted each other with their real feelings and attitudes.

"It is generally recognized," said host Frank Reynolds, "that only when people are ruthlessly honest with each other can they begin to make progress for change."

The program, "Prejudice and the Police," was the fourth in an ABC series, "Time For Americans," examining white racism in America. The final two parts will be presented later this month.

The series, as well as similar programs on the other networks, are an opportunity for white Americans to re-examine attitudes which the President's Commission on Civil Disorders said was the underlying cause of the riots.

The year-old Houston project was the outgrowth of an explosive incident at Negro Texas Southern University in May 1967. Since then more than 700 representatives of the Negro community and 800 policemen have met 20 at a time in three-hour sessions.

One Negro complained that police apply double standards. Particularly irksome to him, he said, was that "they always say, 'Come here boy,' or 'Come here nigger.' That isn't the kind of thing that makes a teen-ager respect the police."

A policeman said he felt his attitude toward anyone he stopped was not influenced by the person's politics, or religion or race. "There is no reason that I'm going to give a person a hard time just because he's black and I'm white," he said. "I think generally most police officers practice their job this way."

Besides direct confrontation, psychological methods were employed and one of the most revealing was the psychodrama in which the police and Negroes exchanged roles.

A policeman assumed the identity of a 15-year-old boy and a Negro played the part of a policeman. Two group leaders stood by to reveal what each must be thinking.

In the first skit the policeman-Negro played the role as he thought a white policeman would really do it. He called the youngster "boy" and treated him brusquely. Then he showed how it really should be done and this time he called him "son" and was more gentle and understanding.

Asked afterwards how he felt the first time, the policeman who played the youngsters, said, "I felt sort of pushed around."

Reynolds said that although the effectiveness of the project was difficult to assess, Houston's leaders felt encouraged that it may lead to some progress.

Vacationers Enjoy Fib As Much as Vacations

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—This is the season to stuff cotton in your ears as soon as you get to work.

It is vacation time. To the average American, going on a vacation is only half the fun. The other half consists in lying about it after he gets back home.

These vacation tales usually follow a pattern: they are larger than life. If the fellow enjoyed himself, there has been no revelry like it since Nero fiddled while Rome burned. If it rained, there has been no downpour to match it since the one that floated Noah's Ark.

Take the cotton wadding out of your ears for the next few weeks, and you'll probably hear from the following familiar vacation types in your own office:

Hank, the Hero—"So I took one of these drowning old ladies under each arm and swam half a mile against a rip-tide to get them to shore. The beach was lined with cheering people." The truth is that Hank went wading and panicked when a wave went over his head. The two old ladies came out, punched him in the nose, then dragged him to safety.

Romantic Rosalind—"The third night out there was a full moon, and as we were sitting alone on deck, he silently slipped this diamond ring on my finger," she says. Actually, her aunt gave Rosalind the diamond on her 19th birthday, and Rosalind had it remounted a week before she left on the cruise.

Statistical Sam—"He claims he averaged 800 miles on the road every day of his vacation. If you remark, 'Aren't you spreading it on a little thick, Sam?" he whips out his gasoline bills to try to prove his tall tale. But all they prove is that if he was making 800 miles a day he was also getting 75 miles to the gallon.

Sportsman Sid—"He battled me like a tiger for a full hour, but when I finally reeled him in he turned out to be a 9-pound bass, the biggest ever caught at Lake Bid-a-wee," says Sid. The real facts: It was the largest minnow anybody at the lake had ever wasted time on, and it managed to wiggle off the hook before Sid could clip it into the boat.

Homeloving Harry—"I painted my house all by myself," is his brag, as he pulled out snapshots. But if his wife were there to hear him, she'd grimly let you know that she and the kids painted their cottage after Harry fell off the first step of the ladder sprained his ankle, and spent the rest of his vacation dozing in a backyard hammock.

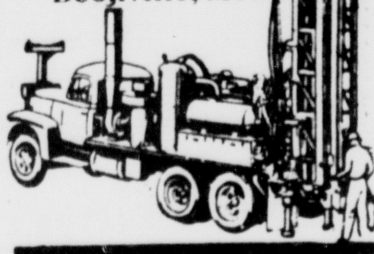

The Great Man Himself—"Took so much paper work along with me I never even had time to go out and get a decent tan," the boss grumbles testily. But he's the biggest fibber of all. He didn't take any paper work with him, and the reason he didn't get a tan is that the

Postoffice Austerity

Proposal of the Postoffice Department to close 347 fourth-class offices by August 30 won't have an impact on Central Missouri, but other curtailments may cause a ripple of concern.

Manpower cutbacks by attrition, or otherwise; plans for future elimination of all Saturday delivery on city residential routes, and a freeze on extension of routes to new apartments and subdivisions are among the austerity items of the department.

The unexpected announcement is an aftermath of restrictions imposed by the tax bill passed by Congress requiring the postoffice department to cut back 83,238 employees.

Some members of Congress look with jaundiced eye upon the edict. One Senator referred to it as "blackmail or implied threats," which will not intimidate him or his colleagues.

As usual the taxpayers or postal patrons will be right in the middle of this impending battle over readjustment of the postal service which has already undergone a zipping up.

But a patient public may accept favorably any sincere effort by a Washington bureau or department to volunteer to curtail expenditures if by so doing the federal debt will be reduced from outer space to sea level.

A case in point which may indicate a trend in public thinking about unnecessary spending was demonstrated recently in Jamestown, Colo., population 200. A contract had been drawn and signed by Uncle Sam's emissaries to provide the villagers with a $14,000 postoffice. But they didn't want it. They thought the postoffice they had in a corner of Donald Haynes' general store was sufficient accommodation.

So the people of Jamestown organized under a banner inscribed with the letters "VOICE." These stood for Voters Opposing Indiscriminate Civic Expenditures.

The VOICE was loud enough to be heard by a Congressman, and the big noise echoed to Uncle Sam's ears.

So the contract for the postoffice Jamestown didn't need or want was cancelled and the people of the mountain village will continue to get their mail and buy their stamps at Mr. Haynes' store.

It's too late for Sedalians to do anything like Jamestown did because our new post-office building is nearing completion a few blocks from our own new structure.

But we can resolve that next time.....well, we'll think about it

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Precedent for Warren's Retirement

By DREW PEARSON and JACK ANDERSON
WASHINGTON — At last week's cabinet meeting, President Johnson was reporting on his Central American trip, particularly his talks with the presidents of Honduras and Salvador. These two countries had been at loggerheads in regard to certain problems, but Johnson had sat with their presidents last week in an effort to work out their difficulties.

Johnson then digressed to tell his cabinet the story of how Winston Churchill when Prime Minister had received a visit from a little lady representing the Prohibitionist Party. She accused him of drinking enough brandy to fill half a room.

"Lady," replied Churchill, holding out his hand to indicate half the depth of the room, "so much done, so much yet to go."

Referring to Latin America, the President concluded: "There's so much more to be done, and so little time left to do it."

He then started going around the cabinet table asking Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman whether he could send farm advisers to Central America, whether Housing Secretary Robert Weaver could send housing experts, and so on.

Note — The snafu President Johnson straightened out between Salvador and Honduras occurred when Salvadorian troops chased a handful of Honduran farmers, who had crossed the border, back into Honduran territory. Whereupon the Honduran Army arrested the Salvadorian troops. Both countries mobilized, and considerable public passion developed on both sides.

—Precedent for Fortas—

Despite the legal pundits on the Senate Judiciary Committee, there is ample precedent for the resignation of Chief Justice Earl Warren subject to the confirmation of his successor.

This was exactly what President Theodore Roosevelt did when Associate Justice Horace Gray resigned from the Supreme Court in 1902.

Justice Gray wrote Teddy Roosevelt a letter very similar to that written by Chief Justice Warren last month. He said:

"Dear Mr. President, July 9, 1902

"Being advised by my physicians that to hold the office of Justice of the Supreme Court for another term may seriously endanger my health, I have decided to avail myself of the privilege allowed by Congress to judges of 70 years of age and who have held office more than ten years. I should resign to take effect immediately, but for a doubt whether a resignation to take effect at a future day, or on the appointment of my successor, may be more agreeable to you.

"Wishing that the first notice of my intention should go to yourself, I have not as yet mentioned it to any one else.

"Very respectfully and truly yours,
(Signed) 'Horace Gray'

In reply, President Roosevelt specifically stated: "I will ask that the resignation take effect on the appointment of your successor."

Then he added this interesting postscript: "Personal

"P.S. The sentence I am about to write I suppose must not be made public because it might mistakenly be held to imply that I had anticipated a change in the Chief Justiceship. If through any accident to my friend the Chief Justice, and was

The Greatest Show on Earth

Public Wrongly Maligns The Dedicated Politician

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) In this turbulent year, the American politician needs and deserves some defense. A new Louis Harris poll puts men in government and politics at the bottom of the pile in the public's regard.

In this reporter's view, this popular judgment is not only quite wrong but is damaging to the political process at a time when it is being sorely tested.

From the vantage point of three decades of observing and associating with politicians, it can be said that they are at least as honest, generally more hard-working, and clearly more intensely devoted to the public good than their counterparts in any other field of endeavor.

And it is fair to say that this is probably more true today than at any time in our history.

To be sure, as in any enterprise, there are good men and bad, the energetic and the lazy, the responsible and the irresponsible. One seasoned congressman estimates, for instance, that out of 435 U.S. House members, perhaps no more than 100 really understand what is going on and about 50 do the really crucial work.

Would a business corporation, a scientific establishment or a university faculty look much better if it were placed in the goldfish bowl the way the Congress is?

Who ever hears about the specific misjudgments made by the president of an automobile company or an electronics firm? Who knows what failures of reasoning are recorded in countless faulty or fruitless experiments conducted in scientific laboratories?

Where is the nameless, misguided academician who took up station with wrong-headed students as they resisted narcotics agents legitimately bent on throttling illegal drug traffic?

Who hold up to public gaze the diagnostic errors of some doctors, or the inadequate representation some lawyers provide for people needing expert legal aid?

The politician, the man in government, is the one exposed to public attention, especially in the age of television. And since his mistakes always make better news than his good performance, these are inevitably recorded with disproportionate faithfulness.

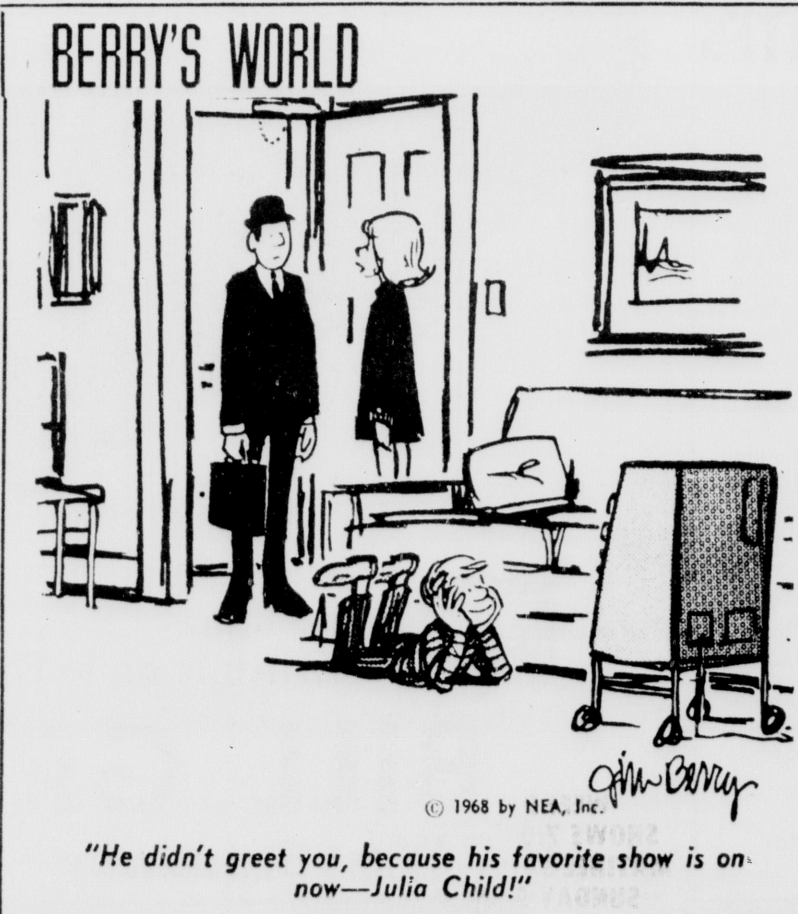

At the highest levels of state and national government, furthermore, the politician's judgments are often far more difficult to make than those required in the business, professional or academic world. The hard choices tend to be among shades of good or shades of bad—gray-toned decisions which contrast markedly with the black-and-white recommendations urged upon the politician from the professor's or the business leader's safe sanctuary.

The politician is a resolver of conflicts, and it is in many ways the most difficult art practiced in a modern free society. Indeed, when businessmen, professors, scientists and others are drawn into the political process, as they often are, they seldom do better and sometimes do much worse than the career politicians.

The history of U.S. participation in World War II is replete with stories of nonpolitical types who failed in Washington because they could not make shades-of-gray decisions required of them.

In this age of the anthihero, when those leaders who are not shot to death or jostled or spat upon are frequently reviled and hooted down, the many, many able, hard-driving, dedicated politicians in this country belong at the top of the heap, not the bottom, in public regard.

Moreover, some citizen critics live in glass houses. Less than 7.5 per cent of New York state's Democratic electorate nominated Paul O'Dwyer for the U.S. Senate in a less than 25 per cent turnout. Is that the way to get politicians of high regard?

US Navy Needs Mature Officers, Admiral Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover says the U.S. Naval Academy is not producing the mature, confident and well-educated officers the modern Navy needs.

Rickover also says the Defense Department "is too much influenced by an industry viewpoint" in its dealing with defense contractors and their profits, "far from being too low as claimed," may be too high.

The deputy commander of the Navy's nuclear propulsion programs issued the broadsides at a closed House appropriations subcommittee hearing in May. His testimony was released today.

"Naval Academy midshipmen generally lack poise, self-confidence and maturity," Rickover said. "They give the appearance of having these qualities, but it is a superficial appearance with a little depth."

He said the most prevalent deficiencies he finds in interviews each year of many Naval Academy and Naval Reserve Officer Training midshipmen fall into the categories of insufficient academic preparation and immaturity.

Academy officials could not be reached for comment.

Rickover said he had been told by one member of the Class of 1967 that grades are the important thing at the academy and that "the instructors don't care too much if a midshipman learns the theory as long as he can pass the quizzes."

The admiral, a 1922 graduate of the academy, said he believes the general lack of poise, confidence and maturity "are caused by the idealistic but impractical attempts by the Naval Academy to include broad coverage of military training, professional and academic education, sports, etc., without giving anything up."

An emphasis on military indoctrination and training, he said, "is fostered by a strong professional military officer organization centered in the executive department" of the academy at Annapolis, Md.

"This conflicts," he said, "with achievement of proper academic education in fundamental concepts and theory."

Rickover said he was aware that steps have been taken to correct some of the deficiencies at the academy but expressed the belief that few significant changes have been made in the over-all training.

Rickover's criticism of the Naval Academy is not new. In recent years he accused the school of spending too much time on frills and not enough on teaching knowledge.

In similar testimony to a House appropriations subcommittee in 1966 he said the academy's greatest weakness, "the one that harms its students most, is the indoctrination which leads to an adolescent outlook."

As for defense contracts, he said in the testimony released today that contractors are able to "hide large profits in costs so that the government never really knows...how much profit a company actually makes..."

Rickover said what he called an excessive interchange of personnel between government and industry has led to some cases where government contract officials deal with their former companies and vice versa.

BPWC Has Program On Americanism

"Americanism" was the theme followed by the Sedalia Business and Professional Women's Club for the dinner meeting held Thursday, July 11, at Bothwell Hotel.

Mrs. Mary Whiteside, chairman of the personal development committee, presented the program, with two young speakers, Sally Robertson, the club's representative to Girls State, and Arthea Mahin, the club's representative to State 4-H Week.

Miss Robertson described her week at Girls State and said they attempted to learn, in six days, how our democratic system works. The girls were permitted to choose classes they wished to attend, she said, and she chose law and journalism. Miss Robertson told of running for governor and while she did not win, she felt a great deal of satisfaction in having tried. Stressing the feeling of loyalty on the part of the girls to their assigned towns she went on to say that to be a democratic nation requires learning to work together and share this loyalty.

Miss Mahin, wearing the new 4-H uniform, told the group that the theme of their week was "Decision for Today and Tomorrow." She stated that she felt the young people of today would be ready to take over when it is their time to run the country. They were urged, she said, to have values of their own and to set a definite goal and a definite date for attaining the goal and then work for it. Luck and talent were only secondary to the desire of accomplishing a goal.

The business meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Nyra Price, with the invocation by Mrs. Genelle Striet, followed by the national anthem and the pledge of allegiance.

Miss Blanche Faust led the pep singing.

Guests were introduced by Miss Edna Kirchhofer as follows: Mrs. Len a Mallett, guest of Mrs. Clela Hawley; Mrs. Sylvia Shumake, guest of Mrs. Betty Balckwell; Mrs. John Boul, guest of Mrs. Nyra Price; Mrs. Arthur Mahin and Mrs. Ralph Robertson guests of the club.

Miss Erma Fajen, finance chairman, presented the budget for the year.

Mrs. Whiteside spoke on the origin of the American flag, Flag Day and the flag's progression of change throughout the history of America.

Mrs. Mary Louise Waldrep, chairman of the music committee, presented Miss Barbara Markmann who sang two songs from "My Fair Lady," "I Could Have Danced All Night," and "Wouldn't It Be Lovely?" She was accompanied by Miss Connie "Substantial amounts of technical information regarding this country's military capabilities," Rickover said, "are being given away through advertising of government contractors," much of it at government expense.

Cordes. The musical program was delightful and the girls were in costumes to fit the songs.

Mrs. Marguerite Scott, scholarship chairman, announced that this club was making available to the State Fair Community College, two loan scholarships for the new licensed practical nurse program.

Mrs. Juanita Hoos was complimented in her work in assuring that the local club made the state honor roll in membership and Mrs. Helen Ream was thanked for her participation in a survey requested by the Commission on Status of Women.

Mrs. Price expressed a desire for an involved and informed membership this year. The BPW participation in Bazaar Days was announced, the club to have a stand at the OK Optical Company.

Tables for the meeting were decorated with white paper printed with red stripes and blue stars. Centerpieces were of red and white flowers and contained small Missouri and American flags.

Members of the personal development committee are: Mrs. Mary Whiteside, chairman; Mrs. Loyce Askew, Mrs. Martha Deck, Miss Balanche Faust, Mrs. Peggy Fusco, Mrs. Mary Gardner, Mrs. Opal Hugelmann, Mrs. Marie McClure, Mrs. Bernice McGee, Mrs. Genelle Striet, Mrs. Juanita Teegarden and Mrs. Estelle Walker.

School in Mexico Attended By Youth

John Pelham, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Pelham, 816 South Barrett, is enrolled this summer at the University of the Americas located in Mexico City, the fifth largest metropolis in the world.

Because students at the university are not only from the United States but from more than 40 other countries, the school plays a distinctive role in intercultural and international education. Accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, the university has a larger enrollment of American students than any other liberal arts school abroad.

Pelham, a graduate of Wentworth Military Academy in Lexington, also holds an A.A. degree from the same school, where he majored in Spanish.

Consumer Activities Interest Poll Takers

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The information most sought by pollsters throughout the year is not voting inclinations, as you might suspect, but consumer information.

The National Industrial Conference Board has 10,000 consumers surveyed every other month. The University of Michigan interviews well over 1,000 every quarter. Commercial Credit Co. questions 15,000 every three months. Sindlinger & Co. queries 1,600 every week.

Total numbers really don't tell the story. Some surveys are less sophisticated than others. Others are conducted by telephone and few questions are asked. A few, such as Michigan and Commercial Credit, conduct face-to-face interviews. And the interpretation counts more highly than the numbers.

These are among the most prominent investigators of the consumer mind on a regular basis. But perhaps many millions more calls are made throughout the year on a much narrower and irregular basis, usually in regard to the marketability of new products.

Why? Because just as it benefits political candidates to know what voters might do, it benefits banks, car manufacturers and food chains to know what the consumer might do with his money.

Once this might have been fairly well known, for the take-home pay of a family head left him few choices. With growing affluence, the consumer can now use more discretion; he can save or spend, buy a car or postpone buying one, take an expensive vacation or stay at home.

The pioneer in consumer surveying is Dr. George Katona of the University of Michigan Survey Research Center. Katona began in 1946 and since then has regularly and often very accurately forecast consumer behavior, based mainly on his expert interpretation of attitudes and sentiments.

Katona's methods are complex, and his reports are detailed. But basically he believes a consumer's discretionary purchases depend on ability to buy and willingness to do so.

In his most recent study, between May 20 and June 3, he found a continuation of a wait-and-see attitude. The ability to buy remained high, he reported, but willingness was depressed, largely because of Vietnam and inflation.

The Industrial Conference Board report, which is based on a survey conducted by National Family Opinion, Inc., stated in its July letter:

"At midyear the nation's consumers are less optimistic in appraising the likely course of business conditions than they were at this juncture in 1967." It found confidence lessened in the economy's immediate future.

To illustrate how complicated the analyses can become, consider this comment by Dr. Tom Juster, one of those involved in setting up the Commercial Credit program:

"There is a major defect in all buyer intention data. It's simple: Most people will not give you a definite 'yes' but they'll give you a flat 'no.' Most of the people who say 'no' do the purchasing."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon says a bomber version of the controversial swingwing F111 has successfully completed a 660 mile-an-hour maiden flight at Carswell Air Force Base, Texas.

The jet bomber, designated the FB111A, can carry nuclear or conventional bombs and was built as a successor to the B52 bomber. The supersonic jet is scheduled for assignment to the Strategic Air Command.

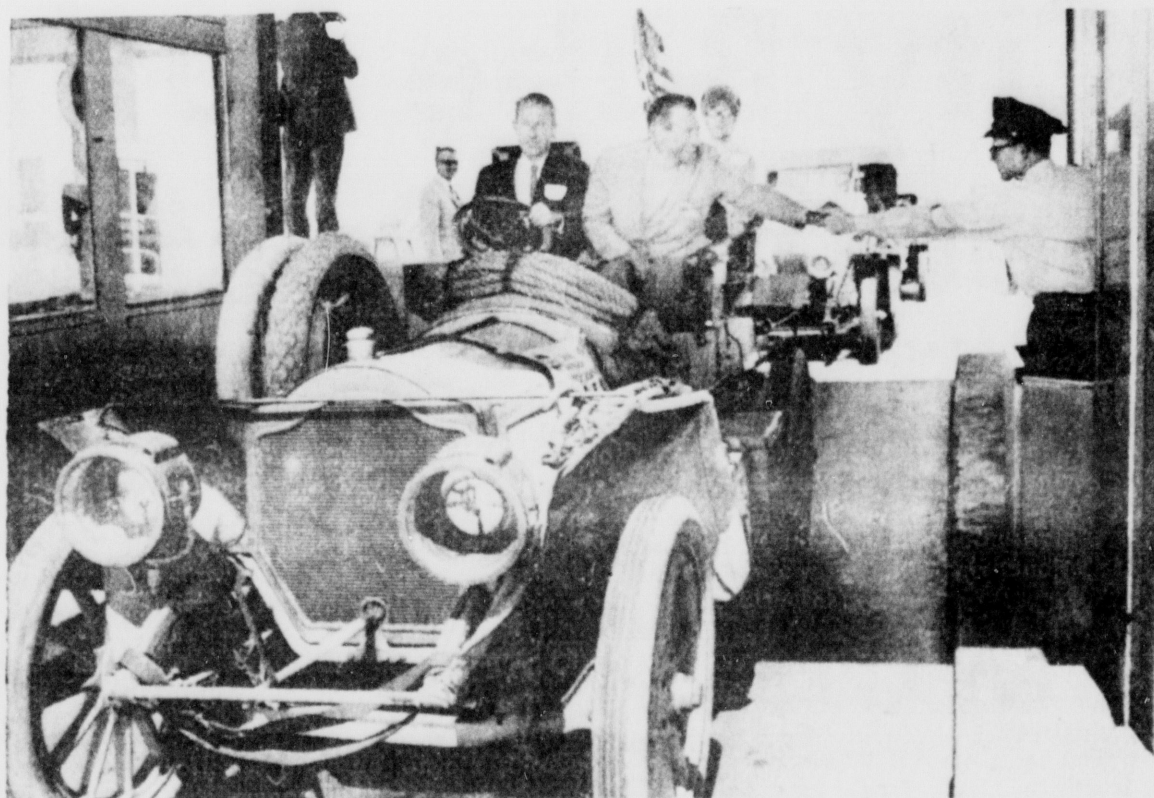

The Pentagon announcement said the plane flew for 30 minutes late last week and reached an altitude of 20,000 feet.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., says Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, the Hungarian Roman Catholic prelate who has been in refuge in the U.S. embassy in Budapest since 1956, should be offered a permanent home in the United States.

"For humanitarian reasons alone," Hartke said in an interview, "Cardinal Mindszenty should be invited to this country so he can live in the freedom for which he has been fighting for more than 25 years but which he has been unable to enjoy."

The senator, who returned recently from a trip to London, said he had taken some action in government circles toward extending the invitation to Mindszenty, who is 76 and reported in ill health. He declined to give details.

Sedalia 4, Tri-County 0

In the 9 p.m. game Saturday night, Sedalia rode the one-hit, shut out pitching of Dave Nash to a 4 to 0 victory over Tri-County.

The lone Tri-County hit went to David Bixler in the fourth inning.

Sedalia opened their scoring in the second inning on a base hit by Larry Neville, a walk to Pete Green and a base hit by Pete Green.

The locals made it 2-0 in the fourth as Dave Nash came through with a two-out single. Pete Green drew a walk and Gary Townsend delivered a base hit.

Sedalia completed their scoring in the fifth as Pat Wood led off with a base hit. Mike Robertson reached on an error and both scored on a fielders choice.

Dave Nash was in complete control as he shut out Tri-County on one hit. He struck out nine and walked one.

Bill Graff and George Marcum shared the pitching chores for Tri-County.

As a result of their win, Sedalia advanced to the 11 a.m. game on Sunday morning with their opponent being Columbia. Batteries for Sedalia — Dave Nash and Larry Neville.

For Tri-County it was Bill Graff, George Marcum and Benny Bestgen.

Score by innings:
Tri-County — 000 000 0 0 1 2
Sedalia — 010 120 x 4 6 2

Sedalia 10, Columbia 8

The 11 a.m. game of Sunday developed into a free-scoring affair as Columbia jumped to an early advantage by scoring three times in the first inning.

Sedalia came back with two runs in the third. Sedalia sent 12 men to the plate in a big eight-run fifth inning and appeared to have a commanding lead but Columbia continued to peck away with two runs in both the fifth and sixth innings. They had the tying run at the plate when the final out was made in the seventh.

George Williams paced the 12-hit Sedalia attack with three safeties. Don Hoffman with three hits led the Columbia team.

Batteries for Sedalia — Alan McCurdy, Jerry Morris & Larry Neville. For Columbia it was Raymond Ash, James Whitfield, Mark Heisler and Mike Sevier.

Score by innings:
Sedalia — 022 080 0 10 12 2
Columbia — 300 122 0 8 11 1

Boonville 6, Golden Valley 0

At 1 p.m. Sunday Boonville remained the only unbeaten team in the tournament by trimming Golden Valley 6 to 0.

Dave Wendleton went the distance for Boonville and pitched a splendid three-hit shutout.

Kenneth Grojan and Steve Stock each had two hits for Boonville. Wendleton struck out and seven and walked two.

The game was scoreless until the bottom of the second when Boonville sent nine men to the plate in a five-run outburst. Stock, Wendleton, Jaeger and Grojan each contributed base hits in the inning. The final run came in the fifth on base hits by Grojan and Banks.

Batteries for Boonville — Dave Wendleton and Bill Dicus. For Golden Valley it was Richard Bauer and Franklin Chaney.

Score by innings:
Golden Valley — 000 000 0 0 3 2
Boonville — 050 010 x 0 6 3 0

Sedalia 4, Golden Valley 3

The 3 p.m. game on Sunday developed into one of the most exciting and hard fought games of the tournament as both Sedalia and Golden Valley battled to stay in contention.

Sedalia broke in the sixth in the sixth and advanced to the finals against Boonville.

It was a see-saw affair as Golden Valley scored in the top of the first and Sedalia countered with two runs in the third. Neville lead off with a bunt single and Gary Eck continued his torrid hitting by lining a long triple down the right field line and later scored on an error.

Golden Valley moved into the lead in the fifth on a double by Tony Switzer, a walk to C. B. Brownsberger and a single by Mitch Crawford.

Sedalia tied it in their half of the fifth as the pitcher Larry Terry laced a long double to left and scored on Gary Eck's third hit of the game.

Sedalia finally pushed across the winning tally in the sixth as George Williams delivered a two-out single, stole second and scored on a clutch hit by Gary Townsend.

Tim Crawford with two hits lead Golden Valley while Gary Eck delivered three safeties including a triple for Sedalia.

Batteries for Sedalia — Larry Terry and Larry Neville. For Golden Valley it was Mike Hendrix, Jack Chaney and Franklin Chaney.

Terry struck out 7 and walked 3.

Score by innings:
Golden Valley — 100 020 0 3 6 1
Sedalia — 002 011 x 4 8 1

Sedalia 15, Boonville 2

Facing Boonville in the 7 p.m. game Sunday and needing two wins for the championship, the local all-stars opened the game with one of the most impressive offensive displays seen in recent years. They pounded out nine solid base hits good for nine runs.

Their big inning opened on a base hit by Gary Eck. It was quickly followed with a triple by David Pirtle and singles by Darrell Matthews, Larry Neville, George Williams and Rick Mills. Mike Robertson contributed a double and Gary Eck, up for the second time in the inning, bunted to a double. Pirtle followed with his second triple of the inning and Darrell Matthews also delivered his second hit of the inning, a long double.

Sedalia also scored two runs in the second and four in the sixth. Gary Eck, Larry Neville and Rick Mills each had three hits in the big nineteenth-hit attack.

Jerry Morris took the win for Sedalia as he permitted two runs on five hits while striking out seven and walking six.

Terry Wolf started for Boonville and took the loss. He was relieved by Charles Milkersman and Dennis Serue.

Milkersman scored single runs in the third as a result of a walk and an error in the seventh on a hit, a walk and another single.

Batteries for Sedalia — Dave Nash, Jerry Morris and Larry Neville and Ed Ream. For Boonville it was Terry Wolf, Charles Milkersman, Dennis Serue and Bill Dicus.

Score by innings:
Sedalia — 920 044 0 15 19 2
Boonville — 001 000 1 2 5 1

Boonville 10, Sedalia 2

Boonville emerged as the 1968 Mo. State Senior Babe Ruth champions by defeating Sedalia 10 to 2.

The final game beginning at 9:30 p.m., saw a tired but game team take the field. Playing in their fourth game of the day, the local all stars were unable to cope with the splendid hurling of Dave Wendleton of Boonville.

Wendleton, who had won a key 6-0 decision over Golden Valley earlier in the day, held Sedalia to five hits while striking out five and walking one.

Dave Nash started for Sedalia and was relieved by Pete

Tigers Lose Fourth Time Out of Five Recent Games

By HERSHEL NISSENSEN Associated Press Sports Writer

As the eminent Satchel Paige once said, "Don't look back someone may be gaining on you."

If the Detroit Tigers want to indulge in any hints, the first thing they'll see is the Baltimore Orioles, who are looking very much ahead—like to this weekend and next.

The Tigers lost Monday night for the fourth time in five games since the All-Star break, bowing to California 4-0. Their American League lead was chopped to 6½ games—five in the loss column—as second-place Baltimore clobbered the New York Yankees 8-2.

Elsewhere, Cleveland nipped Minnesota 4-2, Oakland bombed Boston 12-5 and the Chicago White Sox downed Washington 3-2.

In National League action, St. Louis turned back Los Angeles and Atlanta topped San Francisco by 4-2 scores. Philadelphia whipped the New York Mets 5-3 and the Chicago Cubs beat Pittsburgh 2-1 in 10 innings. The Houston-Cincinnati game was washed out.

The joint—Tiger Stadium, that is—should be jumping this weekend when the Orioles come to town for a four-game series. Detroit visits Baltimore for a three-game set the following weekend. In all, the two teams have 13 games left against one another.

Jim Fregosi and Aurelio Rodriguez backed George Brunet's five-hit pitching with two-run homers as California blanked Detroit and swept a two-game series. The Angels managed only three hits but two of them were the homers, both coming with two out.

In the third inning, Vic Davalillo got the Angels' first hit off Mickey Lolich, a double, and Fregosi lined his ninth homer over the fence in left. Lolich appeared to be out of Green, Jerry Morris and Larry Terry.

Boonville opened the scoring with two walks and two hit batsmen in the third.

Sedalia tied the game in their half of the third on a single by Eck, a sacrifice by Neville and a fielders choice.

Boonville decided the game in the fourth inning as Ken Grojan reached on an error and consecutive base hits were delivered by Terry Wolf, Tim Creighton, Dean Shaw and Sam Marcum.

Sedalia counted their final score in the sixth as Mike Robertson led off with a triple and scored on an infield error.

Wolf, Creighton, Shaw and Marcum each had two safeties to pace Boonville while Gary Eck had a single and a double for Sedalia.

Gary Eck was the leading hitter of the tournament with a .500 average. He had eleven hits in twenty-two appearances. He was closely followed by Larry Neville who went nine for twenty good for a .450 average.

Boonville, as a result of its state tournament victory, now goes to New Albany, Ind., on July 29. New Albany is one of four sectional tournaments held throughout the United States and the winners of the sectional tournaments meet in the Senior Babe Ruth World Series, which will be held in Morristown, N.J.

Forty-two ounces that's a lot, maybe. But they've been hitting the spot for Richie Allen and the Philadelphia Phillies.

Allen, who weighs a 42-ounce bat, crashed two homers, good for three runs, Thursday night as the Phillies beat the New York Mets 5-3 for their seventh straight victory since the All-Star break.

"He uses a very heavy bat," says Phillies' manager Bob Skinner, "but he's so strong he can still whip it through the zone.

In the seven games since the All-Star Game, Allen has whipped his bat through the zone well enough to get 15 hits in 30 at-bats, five homers and 14 RBI. This spree has lifted his season average to .314, with 20 homers and 53 RBI.

While Allen was having a ball with New York pitching, St. Louis was toping Los Angeles 4-2, Chicago was edging Pittsburgh 2-1 in 10 innings and Atlanta was beating San Francisco 4-2 in other National League action. The Houston at Cincinnati game was postponed because of wet grounds.

Allen Adds Two Homers Good for Three Scores

In the American League, Chicago edged Washington 3-2, Minnesota downed Cleveland 4-2, Oakland drubbed Boston 12-5, Baltimore ripped New York 8-2 and California beat Detroit 4-0.

"He's just swinging the bat super," Skinner says of Allen. "He has a chance to win the Triple Crown and he is on his way to doing that now."

Allen helped his Triple Crown cause in the first inning Monday night by homering with Tony Gonzales on base. He also homered in the fourth to give the Phillies a 3-0 lead and later added a single.

Leading 3-2, the Phillies wrapped up the game in the ninth by scoring twice on Tony Taylor's single and consecutive doubles by John Briggs and Clay Dalrymple.

Mike Shannon's two-run homer, tied the game and pinch hitter Phil Gagliano singled in the winner as league-leading St. Louis won its fifth straight and sent Los Angeles to its fifth consecutive loss.

The key hits by Shannon and Gagliano came in a four-run seventh inning that was climaxed by Lou Brock's RBI double.

Los Angeles took a 2-0 lead when Jim Lefebvre singled home one run and Willie Davis tripled and scored on an error.

Chicago pitcher Ferguson Jenkins sent Pittsburgh to its 10th straight loss by driving in a run with a two-out single in the 10th. The losing streak equals the longest in the Pirates' modern history. The all-time club record is 23 straight in 1890.

Pittsburgh scored in the fourth when Maury Wills doubled and scored on Matty Alou's single. The Cubs tied it in the fifth on Dick Nen's triple and Randy Hundley's single. The winning run was set up when Hundley was hit by a pitch and

Bargaining Table Behind, Grunts and Bruises Ahead

By MIKE BRYSON Associated Press Sports Writer

The National Football League players were back at work—officially—today, the bargaining table behind them and the bumps and bruises ahead of them.

There was general satisfaction among the veterans and the coaches when they got together Monday for the first time since the settlement of the dispute between players and owners that had threatened the 1968 season.

"I believed if our demands weren't justified, the settlement wouldn't have happened so fast," said Green Bay quarterback Bart Starr.

"Everyone is happy to get the type of settlement we got," added defensive lineman Jim Weatherwax, who served as coach last week while the veterans worked out unofficially on their own after being barred from the Packers' camp.

Seventeen veterans, who had been working on their own, showed up in shape at the New Orleans Saints camp in San Diego, and Coach Tom Fears called them "a group of dedicated athletes."

But there were others who had some second thoughts, especially about the manner in which agreement was reached.

"What was accomplished was pretty good," said Pittsburgh linebacker Andy Russell. "But I have reservations about the method. I hope it didn't set a pattern. I don't want to see it revert to the level of a union-management relationship."

Teammate Roy Jefferson, a flanker, agreed, adding in the future "we'll have to get together early in the off season and sit down and talk over these things and understand everything completely."

Several veterans, anxious to get to work, showed up ahead of schedule. Quarterback Johnny Unitas headed a group of veterans that reported two days early to the Baltimore Colts' camp at Westminster, Md.

And in Johnson City, Tenn., quarterback Randy Johnson was an early arrival at the Atlanta Falcons' camp.

Fifteen veterans checked into the Detroit Lions' camp. But John Gordy didn't make it. Gordy, head of the NFL Players Association, was held up in New York with some last-minute paper work dealing with Sunday night's settlement of the dispute.

He was, however, expected to report late today.

Sixteen veterans reported to the Los Angeles Rams' camp at Fullerton, Calif., with the rest of the squad expected by Wednesday.

Plan Trials In Horseshoe Pitching Here

Horseshoe pitching is not a lost art. Missouri horseshoe slingers will make this obvious at the qualification trials for the horseshoe pitching contest at the Missouri State Fair.

Qualification trials will be held in five parts of Missouri for the final contest during Fair week, Aug. 17-25, at which $680 and trophies will be awarded to the winners.

Any Missouri resident may compete in the qualifying trials to be held. In Central Missouri, trials will be at Liberty Park in Sedalia, contact Earl Winston.

A Missouri Horseshoe Pitchers Association card will be available at the site for all competitors qualifying for the State Fair contest.

Competition at the State Fair will be held Aug. 23-25 with cash premiums ranging from $50 to $4 awarded to the top contenders in nine classes.

Anyone who wishes to compete in these preliminary trials for the 1968 Missouri State Fair horseshoe pitching contest should contact Earl Winston, LaMonte, as soon as possible.

Deny Charges Published In N. Y. Paper

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—While Athletic Director George McCarty denied charges of discrimination published in an Albany, N.Y., newspaper, a re-evaluation of athletics at the University of Texas-El Paso was preparing to get under way today.

Phil Harris, a former basketball star at the school, was quoted in the Albany Knickerbocker News by sports editor Ralph Martin as saying Negroes are recruited at the school to play basketball "and if we can get an education it's accidental."

Harris left school last spring at the end of the basketball season.

Martin said in his column Harris said Negro athletes "end up taking courses in swimming, radio and television-watching and other snap subjects."

"Then, when his athletic eligibility is over, he is faced with a crushing load he can't cope with, demanding subjects such as physics and math. When the eligibility for sports is over, the help and assistance mysteriously disappear."

"There are no more tutors. The task just becomes too great for many Negroes and they are forced to drop out of the school."

Warsaw Country Club Holds Golf Tourney

The Cedar Hills Golf Club's Warsaw, recently completed the men's 36-hole Medalist Tournament which was played over a two-week period. Qualifying scores over 18 holes were recorded prior to the final rounds played on Sunday, July 7.

The winners were: Championship flight, John West, 132; A flight, Ken Kammayer, 149; and B flight, Quentin Breshears, 151. Each flight winner was presented an engraved trophy.

Par for Cedar Hills Course is 72. West's score was a record "3 strokes below par."

Viking, Ellis In Rematch

Carmen Monge

Kay Noble

Towering and talented Cowboy Bob Ellis will be back in action at Convention Hall tonight, this time seeking to end once and for all his bitter feud with the 250-pound Viking.

The pairing, a renewal of last week's rugged showdown between the two, will headline a four-event program that also will see girl wrestlers in action.

Ellis will be trying to repay the Viking for an attack the latter launched against him after last week's match in which the Texan was awarded the decision.

The liberal rules set for the event are tailor-made in Ellis' favor. They'll battle under Texas rules provisions. These call for no time limit, no disqualification. In addition, the referee will be stationed outside the ropes, so he'll have little say in the proceedings.

Ellis, a 252-pound stalwart who is a big favorite here, is expected to have the support of the fans in his effort to eliminate the Viking as a rival. His speed-gearred offense and power tactics give him a slight advantage, but the Viking is well-equipped to meet the threat.

In mixed action, Kay Noble will side with Naturepo Kirby and they'll go against Carmen Monge and Ronnie Etchison.

Scheduled, too, is a clash between Handsome Herb and Thor Hagen.

The 8:30 opener pits Monge and Noble.

34---Imbedded In Sand Traps

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Playing a ball imbedded in a sand trap is similar to most trouble shots: you can't expect too much. Get the best you can out of an unfortunate situation, then forget it.

Here, you play the ball back closer to your right foot than normal. Keep the club face closed (or hooded) in this bunker shot. This is in contrast to most bunker shots in which you keep the club face open.

When you're lined up, swing down and through the ball, hitting about an inch behind the ball. It's a chopping swing.

Keep in mind that you must allow for considerable run, since no backspin can be imparted.

Of course, it is a frustrating shot at best. The best antidote I can recommend is that you stay clear of traps altogether.

But that's like saying you shouldn't catch cold. And no one has yet found an adequate cure for either.

Serviceable 'Saucer' Replaces Wheel Chair

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—My Pointer is for families with a crippled child who enjoys going to the beach. We were told not to take our son's wheel chair in the sand, so we invested in a flying saucer children use for sledding. Now we wheel Steve to the edge of the sand, put him on the saucer and pull him to the water's edge. Since the saucer is not really comfortable, we lift him out on the beach. After doing this, we cover the saucer with a towel because the sun on the metal would make it so hot it would be impossible to put him back on it without danger of burns.—HAZEL

RADIAL 990

Built a new way. Radial cords run parallel to each other. Fight friction and heat build-up. Rigid belt of cords keeps tread from shifting on the road.

Radial 990 keeps 35% more rubber on the road for better traction, safer stops, greater stability.

"Knee-action" sidewalls flex on turns, hold tread on road for better cornering, easier handling, less skidding.

Now available for popular size cars!
Ford, Chevrolet, Plymouth, Buick Special, Skylark, Cougar, Cutlass, Dodge Coronet, Dart, Charger, F-85, Firebird, Tempest, Toronado.

Because of the great demand for big-car sizes, the supply is temporarily limited.
